Musica Viva Australia

THE ENERGY IN THE ROOM

A photograph of two violinists performing on stage. The violinist on the right is in sharp focus, wearing a shimmering gold dress and playing a violin. The violinist on the left is blurred, wearing a dark, patterned dress. The background is dark, and the lighting is dramatic, highlighting the musicians and their instruments. The title 'THE ENERGY IN THE ROOM' is overlaid in large, white, serif capital letters.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

Musica Viva Australia acknowledges the Traditional Custodians of the many lands on which we meet, work and live. We pay our respects to Elders past and present — people who have sung their songs, danced their dances and told their stories on these lands for thousands of generations, and who continue to do so.

A blurred photograph of two young musicians performing. On the left, a young man in a dark suit is playing a violin. On the right, a young woman in a dark, textured dress is playing a cello. The background is dark and out of focus. Large, white, serif text is overlaid on the image, reading "DOM IS THE SECRET OF CHAMBER MUSIC".

WELCOME TO SEASON 2027

Ask any seasoned orchestral musician what repertory they most cherish and chances are they will respond, 'chamber music.'

It's easy to understand why: each musician is given the agency and individual voice that an orchestral tutti, glorious though it is, cannot provide.

The beautiful idea at the heart of chamber music is the direct and respectful musical conversation between the artists. Our 2027 concert season expands this principle, fostering artistic collaborations between artists of shared vision across seas and time zones, between outstanding international musicians and the cream of Australia's music-makers.

Where else but on our stages would you find Will Barton playing with The Choir of King's College, Cambridge? Or the French harpsichordist Bertrand Cuiller performing Bach with his old buddy Julia Federsdorff and her Van Diemen's Band? Or the luminescent French singing star Lea Desandre premiering Alice Chance's setting of the Australian poet Verity Laughton's gorgeous words?

It is a season of beguiling artistic encounters. Dig into any of the national tours and you will discover a rich vein of the best music and musicians in the world. We invite you to discover it all with us — the musicians you've only ever heard on radio, the music you love passionately or will hear for the first time. Be entranced, be transformed, as we step onto the world stage.

OUR PARTNERS

Van Diemen's Band

&

Bertrand Cuiller

Virtuosity and curiosity at the frontiers of the Baroque.

Twenty years after first making music together, two kindred spirits reunite to open our 2027 Season. Celebrated French harpsichordist Bertrand Cuiller makes his Australian debut, joining Julia Fredersdorff and Van Diemen's Band, her acclaimed ensemble of Baroque adventurers.

This program traces a vibrant web of musical exchange, shaped by the flow of composers and scores between Europe's cultural capitals. At its heart is Bach's Harpsichord Concerto in D minor, fizzing with brilliant keyboard writing. Its three movements become pillars around which music from the courts and theatres of 17th-century England swirls: the sparkle of Purcell, the ceremony of Handel, the shadowy wit of Locke. Rare gems from Picforth, Brade and Schop, and a new work from Jane Sheldon, inspired by Byrd, transport us to the furthest corners of a rich and unexpected musical world.

The Romantics

Three formidable artists converge for an evening of astonishing music-making.

Andreas Ottensamer is one of the most exciting clarinettists performing today, celebrated for his international solo career, his tenure as Principal Clarinet of the Berlin Philharmonic, and his rapidly growing reputation as a conductor. Sharon Grigoryan is quite simply one of Australia's most brilliant and best-loved cellists. And Croatian–Austrian pianist Dejan Lazić has dazzled audiences worldwide, equally at home as a concerto soloist and chamber musician.

Together, they will showcase the range of their three distinct musical voices and instruments, in a concert illuminated by Romantic masterpieces.

Mendelssohn's timeless Songs Without Words and Schumann's Fantasiestücke chart the emotional landscape, while Scarlatti and Bartók provide a rhythmic counterpoint. To conclude, the autumnal masterpiece that is Brahms' Clarinet Trio brings all the threads together.

One of the leading clarinettists working today.

THE INDEPENDENT (UK)

Grigoryan dazzled with her superb musicianship and generous collaboration.

Tour 3

Esmé Quartet

Esmé Quartet © Jeremy Visuals

In 2024 Australian audiences fell in love with the Esmé Quartet.

The Quartet's musicians won hearts with their fearless virtuosity and deep insights into the quartet repertoire. Nearly ten years after winning the International String Quartet Competition in London, the Esmé Quartet is now a global phenomenon, with tours across America, Europe and Asia; and residencies in LA and Seoul.

Their return tour is the classic Esmé experience: a deep dive into the quartet canon paired with passionate advocacy for inspired voices. Here those voices include American-Korean composer Juri Seo's atmospheric river at the end of the mind, written for the Esmé Quartet, and American Romantic composer Amy Beach's only quartet. To complete the program, two of the most beloved works for four strings: Schumann's quintessentially Romantic A-major quartet, and the extraordinary 'Harp' quartet of Beethoven.

A quartet with an enviable reputation for elegance, precision and energy.

William Barton

The Choir of King's College, Cambridge returns to Australia for a unique collaboration with composer, performer and visionary William Barton. The iconic Choir, founded in the 15th century, is famous for its much-loved broadcasts from the magnificent Chapel of King's College, but to truly appreciate their remarkable musicianship and impeccable sound you have to hear them live.

And you can, in 2027, when they return to Australia to explore music old and new with one of Australia's most charismatic musicians. From green fields and stained-glass windows to red dirt and blue skies, the songs will meet, merge, and make meaning.

Gabriel Fauré's Requiem is the moving centrepiece of a program of choral classics. And woven into these profound meditations, William Barton offers his own invitation to join him in a hymn to Country.

Hyde injects a freshness into these old favourites, as if a beloved painting had been given a light clean, so it glows more brightly than before.

BBC MUSIC MAGAZINE

Hyde's direction of the choir brings freshness and vibrancy to the traditional repertoire, while maintaining an unwavering commitment to the spiritual nature of choral music.

Tour 5

Javier Perianes

Image © Marco Borggreve

A musical odyssey across daring harmonies, restless beauty and exotic landscapes, with Spain's leading pianist, Javier Perianes.

For this tour, Perianes brings the first part of an ambitious five-year solo recording and performance project with Schubert at its centre. Schubert's monumental Wanderer Fantasy is the spiritual heart of these performances, performed with the profound and elusive late Klavierstücke.

In dialogue with Schubert, two masterpieces of musical evocation and imagination. Debussy's Préludes conjure vivid scenes and fleeting impressions, while Albéniz invokes colourful memories of Spain in his legendary final work, Iberia. And at the crossroads of the journey, Australian composer Elizabeth Younan, inspired by the music of 19th-century Vienna, writes for a Spanish pianist, weaving together here and there with now and then.

His demeanour and technique ... radiate calm, yet the precision and speed of his fingerwork can be quite shattering. Seldom, if ever, have I encountered such a combination of evident modesty and utter brilliance.

Desandre & Dunford

Lea Desandre & Thomas Dunford © Julien Berhamou

Love is in the air when mezzo-soprano Lea Desandre and lutenist Thomas Dunford embark on a voyage across three centuries of French song.

Lea Desandre, named Female Singer of the Year at the Opus Klassik awards in 2022, is one of the brightest talents of her generation. Thomas Dunford, her partner in life and music, is the inspiring artistic director of Ensemble Jupiter. Together, they are taking the world of classical music by storm.

For her Australian recital debut, Lea Desandre explores an exquisite bouquet of songs from the Baroque to now, which explore the many shades of love, from tenderness to passion to heartbreak. At her side, Thomas Dunford brings sunny harmonies and captivating lute solos.

‘It doesn’t matter whether the texts are by Shakespeare or by modern songwriters’, says Desandre. ‘These are songs born out of someone grabbing an instrument and bringing the words to life, straight from the heart.’

This is a rare opportunity to hear ‘the duo with the most chemistry in classical music’ (OperaWire) in an intimate recital setting, singing and playing from the heart. Be charmed, mesmerised and utterly seduced by Lea Desandre and Thomas Dunford.

Lea Desandre brought life and beauty to everything she touched.

Vision by

Vision

You can trust the Vision String Quartet to see things differently.

From the Elbphilharmonie to Wigmore Hall, the Quartet has won over audiences worldwide with its innovative concerts. A Vision String Quartet performance brings together insightful renditions of the most-loved classic string quartets with their own enchanting compositions, drawing on inspiration from folk to funk. They perform entirely from memory.

In 2027 they invite you into the inner world of the string quartet, from Mozart's sunny and subversive String Quartet in D major, to the soul-searching of Shostakovich in his eighth Quartet, through to taking the leap into joyous music from their album Spectrum. It's a world where four superb musicians, set free from the page with the music deep inside them, redefine what a string quartet can be.

*Young, cool and brilliant.
The string quartet of the future.*

Commissions

Meet the composers whose works will be featured in the 2027 Season.

WILLIAM BARTON

For two decades, William Barton has forged a peerless profile as a performer and composer in the classical musical world, from the Philharmonic Orchestras of London and Berlin to historic events at Westminster Abbey for Commonwealth Day 2019, Anzac Cove and the Beijing Olympics. His awards include Best Original Score for a Mainstage Production at the 2018 Sydney Theatre Awards and Best Classical Album ARIA for Birdsong At Dusk in 2012. With his prodigious musicality and the quiet conviction of his Kalkadunga heritage, he has vastly expanded the horizons of the didgeridoo — and the culture and landscape that it represents.

JANE SHELDON

Jane Sheldon is an Australian–American soprano and composer. Jane's 2022 album I am tree, I am a mouth was listed on The New Yorker's Notable Recordings of that year, alongside the Berlin Radio Symphony and Björk. Flowermuscle is her most recent release.

Described as 'riveting' (New York Times) and 'gripping and expressive' (Financial Times), Jane's compositional output includes electronic music, chamber music, opera installations, works for dance companies, and large-scale sound installations for museums.

Jane has sung at the Louvre, the Barbican, the Guggenheim, and the Sydney Opera House and performed at Lincoln Center Festival, Sydney Festival, Jerusalem Sacred Music Festival, Holland Festival, and Tokyo Festival. She holds a PhD in music composition from the University of Sydney and is an Artistic Associate at Sydney Chamber Opera.

Musica Viva Australia is commissioning the future of Australian music.

ELIZABETH YOUNAN

Elizabeth Younan is an Australian composer whose violin solo ... your heart dreams of spring appears on Jennifer Koh's Grammy award-winning album Alone Together. Her music has been presented by numerous significant ensembles including the Sydney Symphony Orchestra, and she is the composer for the acclaimed podcast Lost Women of Science. Elizabeth holds degrees from the Sydney Conservatorium of Music, where she studied with Carl Vine AO. She later graduated from the Curtis Institute of Music as the first Australian composer admitted to the institution. She is currently pursuing a Doctor of Musical Arts at The Juilliard School on full-tuition scholarship. Her honours include a General Sir John Monash Scholarship, an ASCAP Morton Gould Young Composer's Award, and a Charles Ives Scholarship from the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

ALICE CHANCE

Alice Chance is an award-winning composer whose works have been performed in France, the United Kingdom, Germany, the USA, Japan, Singapore and across Australia. A firm believer that playfulness should be taken seriously, Alice weaves together diverse influences from contemporary classical music, art song, early music, musical theatre, sound design, folk and blues to create her distinct sound. Alice recently returned from living in Paris where she completed a Masters in Composition at the École Normale de Musique with acclaimed French composer Régis Campo. Recent collaborations include Sydney Symphony Orchestra and Genevieve Lacey, The Australian String Quartet, Ensemble Offspring, Sjaella (Germany), Sequenza 9.3 (France), Affinity Quartet, Hawai'i Symphony Orchestra, The Australian Voices, Sydney Children's Choir, Van Diemen's Band, and Andrew O'Connor. A recipient of the 2026 Fluxus Opera Lab grant, Alice is currently working on a children's opera.
